Emerson Wave Feature

The Emerson "Wave Feature", also called the remote pocket opener, is the most dynamic and advanced feature ever designed for folding knives. This device allows you to open the knife literally, as it is removed from the pocket. This makes any "Waved" Emerson knife the fastest deploying folding knife in the world. Faster than an automatic, your knife is open as it comes up into your hand-ready for use. The Emerson "Wave Feature" is now officially required on all the knives that Emerson supplies to Military Combat Units, Military Search and Rescue Units and Law Enforcement Agencies.

Entrek knives feature 440C stainless blades with bead blast finish and black canvas micarta handles. Full tang. Black Kydex® belt sheath. Made in the U.S.A. with materials from U.S. companies.

We accept no shortcuts.

The differences between a Helle knife and other knives are many. The main one is probably our use of a triple laminated steel blade. What we do is forge in a thin slice of hard steel between two tough stainless steel layers. As a result the blade is almost impossible to break while retaining its sharpness longer. The steel we use is more expensive than in many other knives, but that is all part of Helle's philosophy of never compromising on quality.

MADE IN NORWAY

A knife is more than its blade. Two things characterize a good handle. It must be functional and it must look right. For that reason many of our handles are in curly-grained birch. As a wood it is hard and robust, while careful grinding, oiling and polishing bring out the beauty of its grain. At the same time it is comfortable in the hand. We apply the same criteria to the sheath. Good craftsmanship and the perceptible quality of the materials make for a sheath which is both strong and attractive.
